Whether we provide the lot and architectural drawings or build on your lot with your plans, there are many different levels of 'custom' available.

We build to suit your lifestyle. Do you work from home? Do you do a lot of entertaining? Need a 'quiet room' for teenagers and their friends? Are you a book hound? Our special touches make your house a home.

And we can customize to your budget, as well. McConnell Homes has built homes for every size family, in every stage of life, for a wide range of budgets. Typically you can build your dream home starting in the high $300's and going up to well over a million dollars.

Either way, you receive the same level of service, the same attention to detail.

Customer Service

If you have ever built a home, you know there are thousands of decisions to be made, some with unforeseen ramifications and often with very little time to consider. A design coordinator anticipates these decisions, provides pros, cons, and recommendations to make sure you never feel rushed.

McConnell Homes is one of the only Intown builders with a full-time design coordinator on staff, providing personal attention, helpful advice, and a knowledgeable resource during the home building process. Our coordinator is your advocate from the moment you sign on through your first year of home ownership (during the warranty period).
